DOUBLE & QUEEN BEDS

Allowing couples to stay together

A photograph of an elderly couple sitting on a grey sofa in a modern living room, playing video games. The woman on the left is wearing a beige sweater and holding a black controller. The man on the right is wearing a brown sweater and holding a white controller, with his arm raised in excitement. A coffee table in front of them holds two white mugs and a plate of food. The background features a light-colored wall and a large window. The text is overlaid in a white serif font.

From our experience, no two clients or sites are the same.
Each have unique requirements that we work with to provide the most suitable range of products.

GAMMA

A vinyl seat is a great option for easy cleaning.

MARTA

An open back chair reduces the likelihood of food becoming stuck in the back of the chair.

AMY

Chair arms with a grab handle are easier for residents to lift themselves out of.

Dining tables need to be durable, functional and fit for purpose.

Our laminate, veneer and solid timber tables provide the ability to tailor to the facilities style whilst also remaining practical.

BED AUDITS

Many of our clients have so many different beds, they don't know where to start when looking at bed replacement programs. We conduct full audits, so customers know exactly what they have and how to move forward.

TRIAL BEDS AND FURNITURE

We encourage staff and residents to trial beds and furniture before purchasing to determine suitability.

BUDGET QUOTING

We can present our pricing in an excel spreadsheet, with options we believe are suitable. This way, you can choose the quantities and products you like, as well as working within your budget.
